

He's Got the Whole World in His Hands

Traditional

The musical score is written on a single treble clef staff in D major (two sharps) and common time (C). It consists of three lines of music. The first line starts with a D chord above the staff and contains the melody for the first four measures. The second line starts with an A chord above the first measure and a D chord above the third measure, containing the melody for the next four measures. The third line starts with an A chord above the first measure and a D chord above the fifth measure, containing the melody for the final four measures. The lyrics are written below the staff, aligned with the notes.

He's got the whole world in His hands, He's got the whole world in His hands, He's got the whole world in His hands, He's got the whole world in His hands.
